This team is known as Codename: G.I. JOE,
the greatest special missions strike force in America!

One of these rockets contains a new satellite that the United States is about to launch into space! The other two rockets are fakes!

"Time to start Operation Decoy, team! Remember, only one of the rockets is real!

"The others are dummies to draw the criminal organization—Cobra— away from the real launch so that they don't steal the satellite!"

Meanwhile, not far away, the evil agents of Cobra are watching everything! "Cobra Commander, the rockets are about to be moved! Which do we capture?"

"So they think they can trick me by hiding the rocket containing the satellite among two identical decoys! Fools! Cobra will steal them all!"

"Scarlet, look! Cobra agents coming in to cut us off!"
"Let's give them a warm welcome, Flash!"

"Oh, no! Scarlett, look out! A couple of the Cobra agents are going to ram the truck!"

"Flash, hold on!"
"I can't, Scarlett! We must stop Cobra before they can get the rocket!"

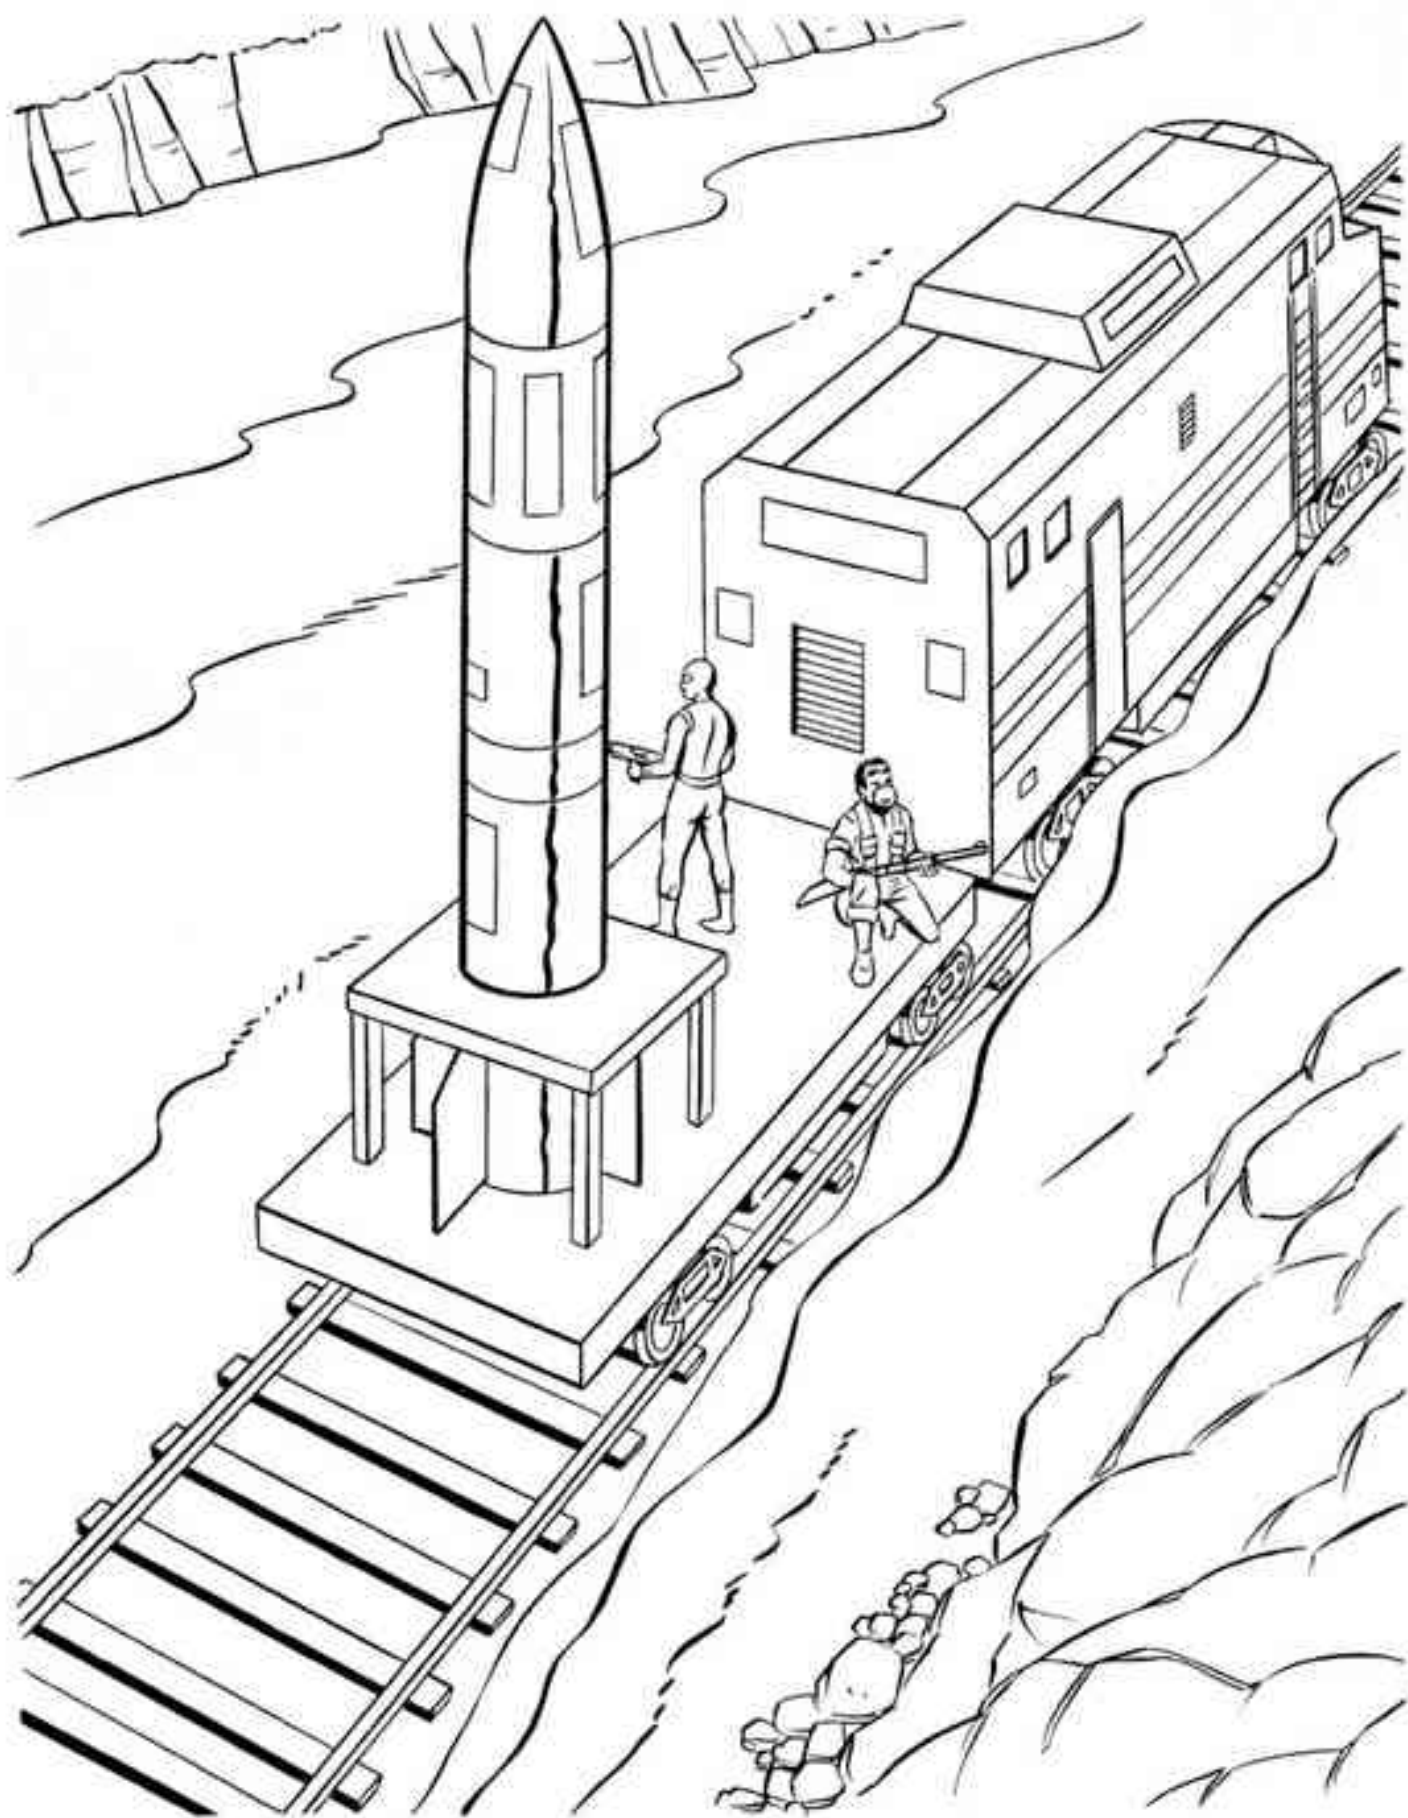

"Too late, you are our prisoners! And the rocket belongs to Cobra!"

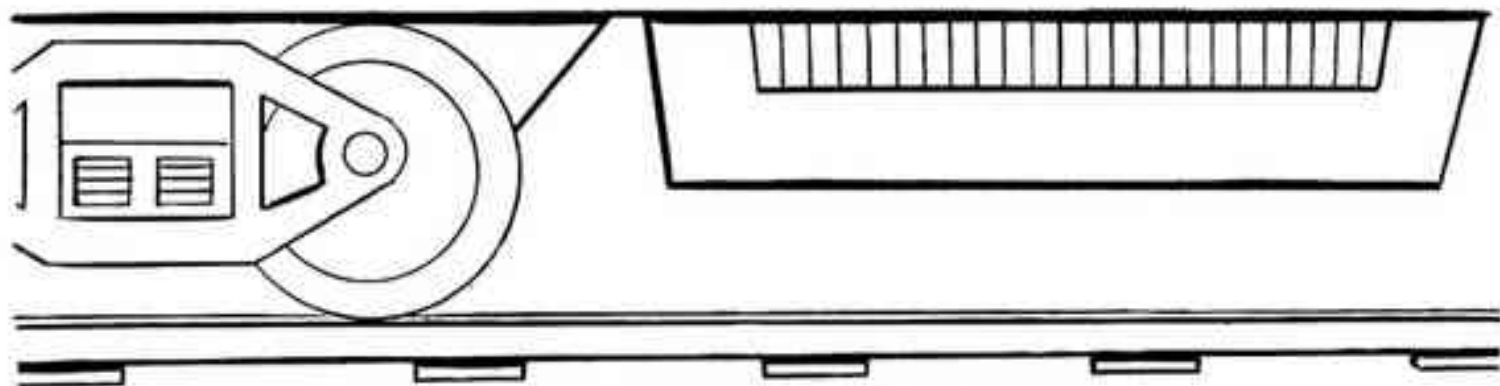

The Cobra agents inspect the rocket on the vehicle . . .

"Oh, no! The Cobra Commander will be mad! This rocket is a fake!"

Meanwhile, Breaker and Snake-Eyes are almost at their destination...

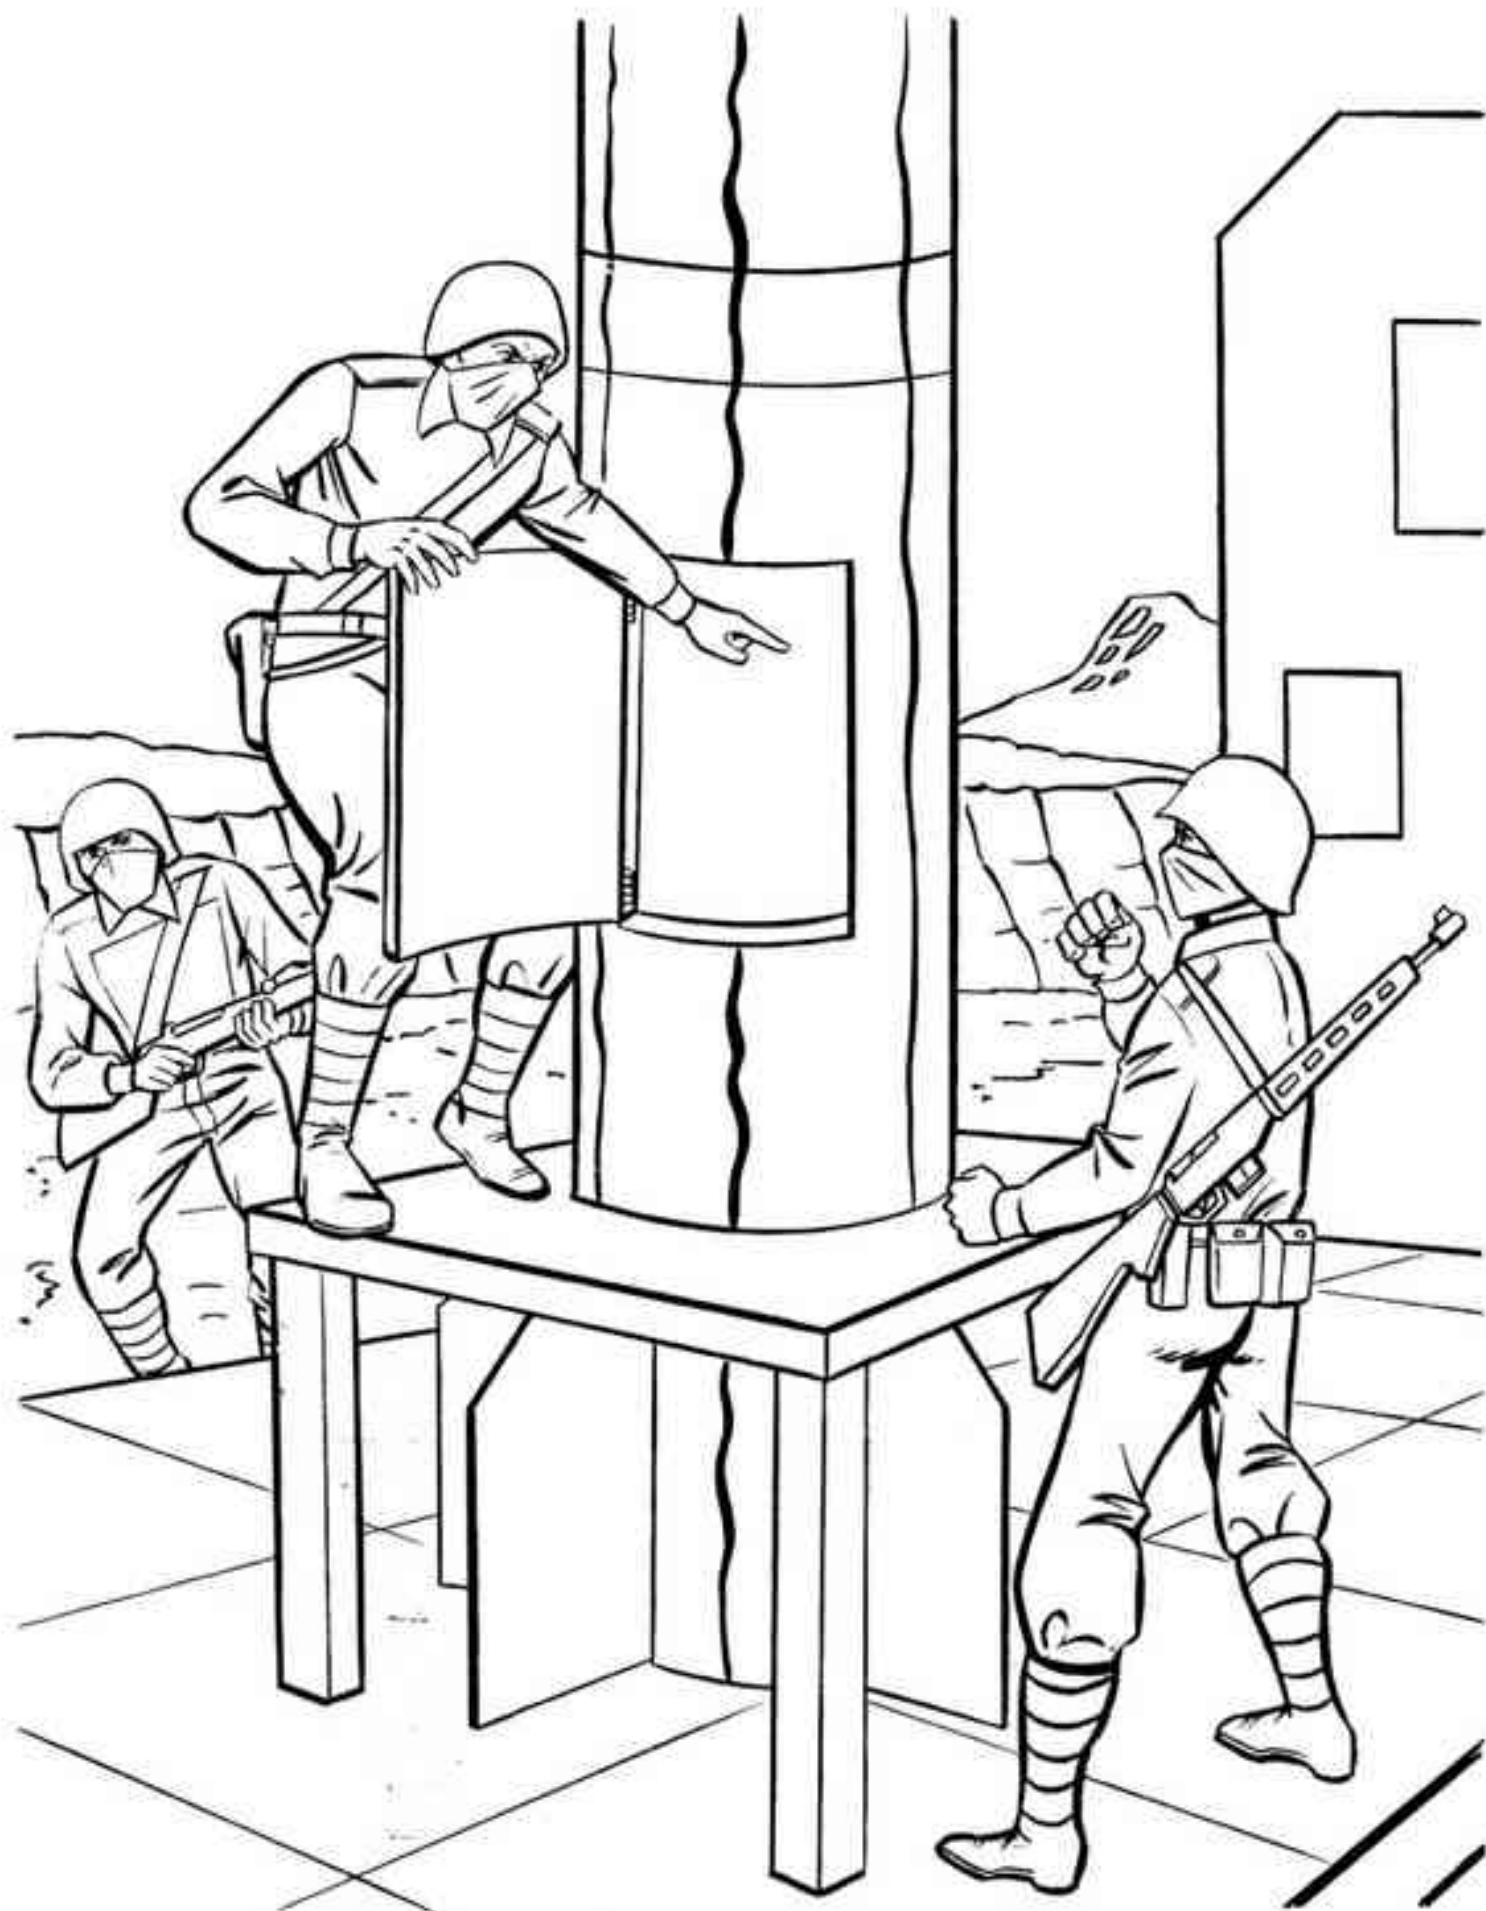

"What's wrong, Snake-Eyes? "

"All right, Cobra agents, time to trap and catch our prize! Release the net!"

"Cobra's caught us! There's nothing we can do to stop them from getting the rocket!"

But when Cobra examines the rocket,
they discover that it is a dummy, too!

Meanwhile, in a bunker at the original site.

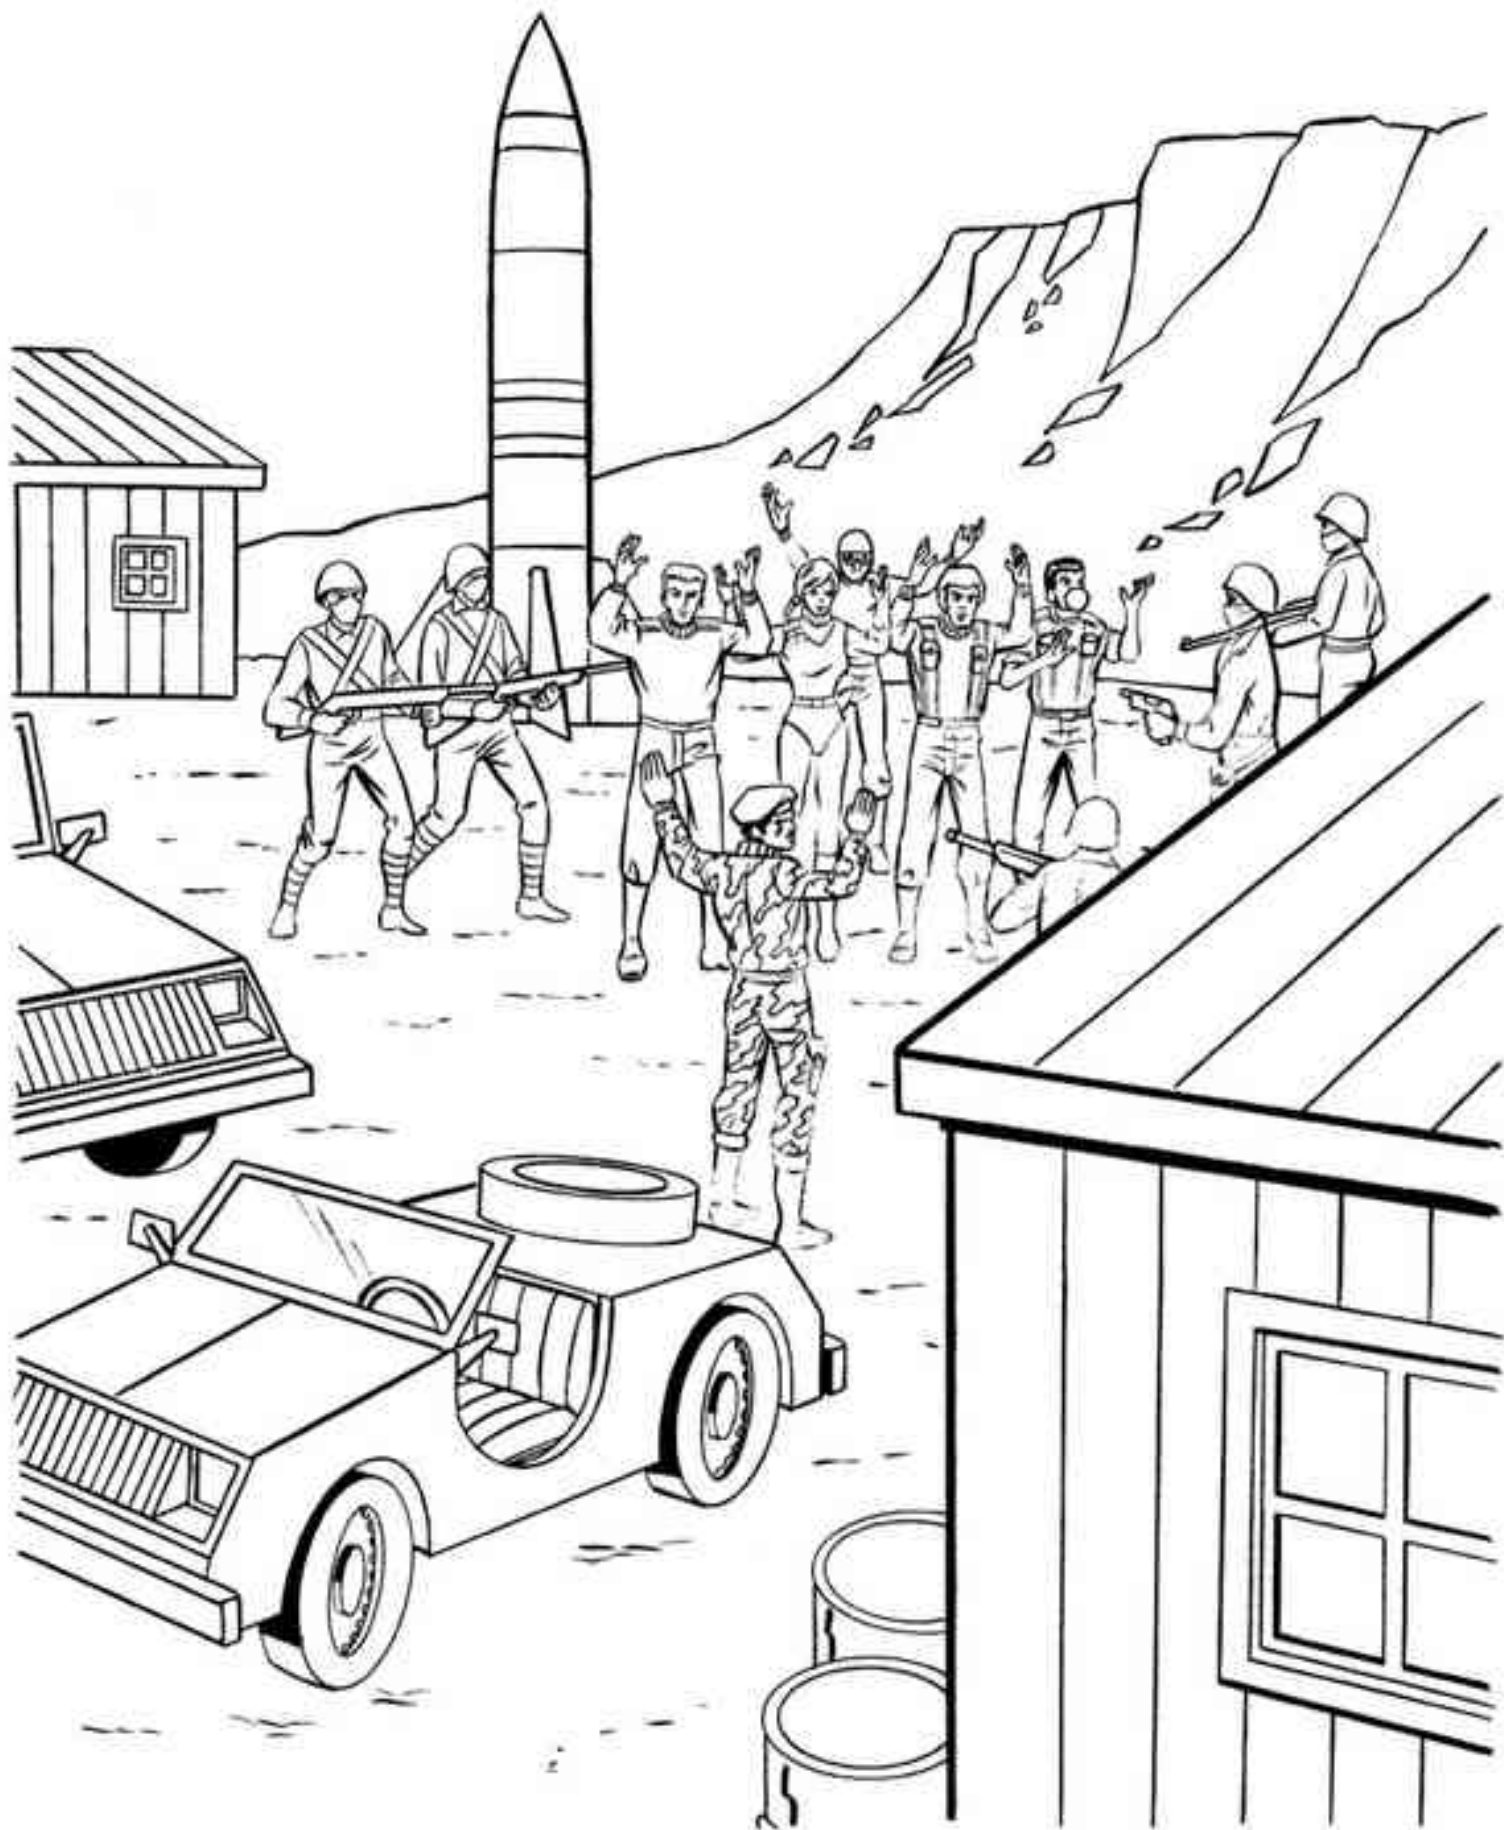

"Cobra should be too busy with our decoy rockets to stop the launching of the real rocket. Stalker!"

"That's right, Hawk! Let's start the test!"

"That we shall, fools — but there is a change in the target!"
"Hawk, they're Cobra agents!"

The other Cobra squads arrive with their prisoners.

"Tie the G.I. Joe team to the rocket! We'll give them a ride they'll never forget!"

"Sorry, Cobra, but you guys aren't taking me anywhere!"

"Wait! We're being pulled into that Cobra transport by a tractor beam!"

"You have failed, G.I. Joe team! Now we will ransom the rocket and the new satellite to the highest bidder!"

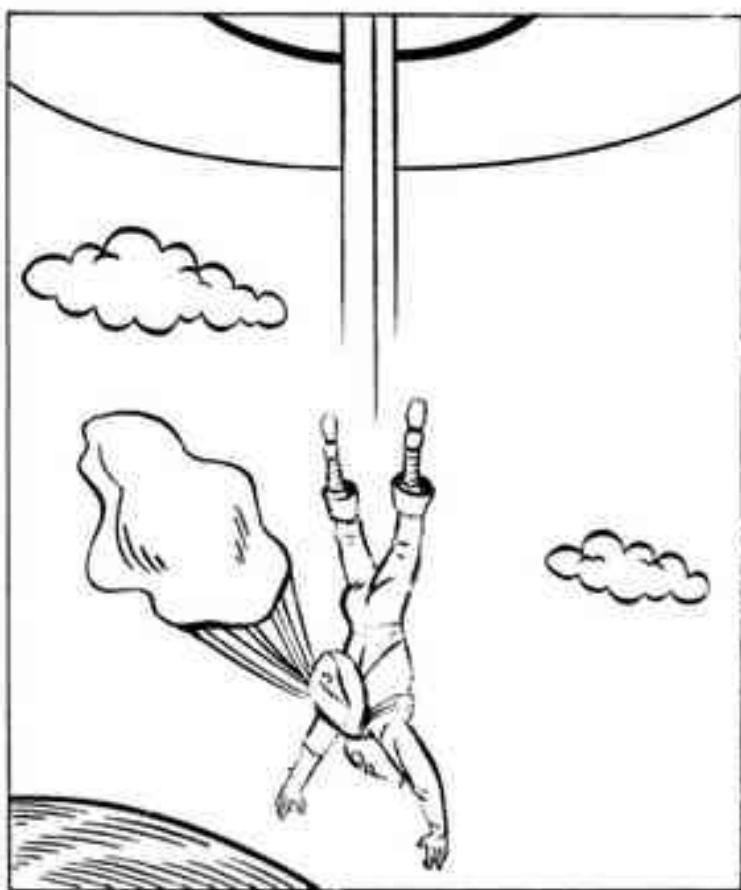

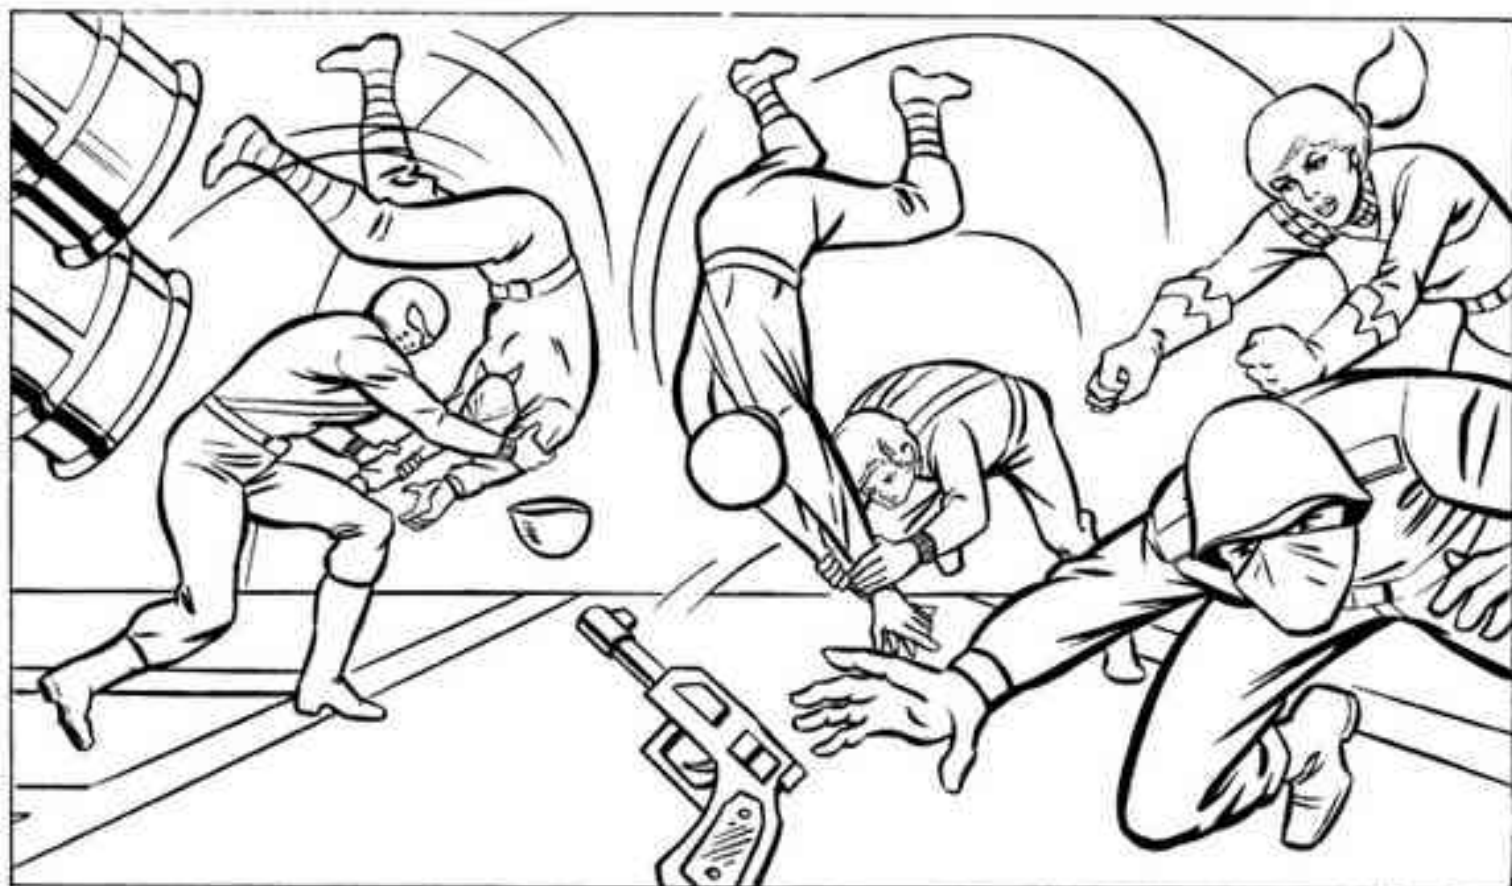

Suddenly: "What's going on? Why is the airplane shaking?"

It's Stalker!

"This should create a diversion — to give the other Joes a chance to break free!"

"You'll get a flip out of this, fella. You Cobra guys should know the G.I. Joe team is double-trouble!"

"Quick, Breaker, let's get the Cobra Commander before he escapes!
Rats, we're too late, there he goes!"

"We won this battle, team. And, next time, we're going to capture the Cobra Commander and win the war!"
